

Mander Duffill Graduate Programme 2019

Going to university?

Our Graduate Programme enables candidates to take 'the university path' whilst also taking steps towards a career in accountancy. Whilst studying at university, we will help with funding, offer work placements, with the potential for a job upon graduation.

Recognising our commitment to building a winning team, Mander Duffill was the proud winner of the Princess Royal Training Award in 2017 – and the only accountancy firm to win this prestigious honor.

What are we looking for?

We are looking for candidates who will be attending university and studying relevant degrees – these include accountancy, finance, business, economics and mathematics.

The programme will start in July 2019, before the university term begins in September.

What does the Mander Duffill graduate programme involve?

- Competitive monthly salary package
- 10 weeks' work experience during university holidays (minimum of 6 weeks during the summer holiday)
- No bilateral commitment
- Opportunity to gain valuable work experience to perform any number of business tasks, from technical and analytical work, to financial planning and business strategy
- Development of transferrable skills, from communication and team-working, to problem-solving and decision-making – accountants develop skills valuable to any organisation
- Opportunity to better utilise the knowledge obtained at university and to apply this theory to real-life situations

What could the graduate programme lead onto?

- The right individual would have a varied role within the company, gaining experience in different departments including Accounts, Personal Tax, Management & Bookkeeping (M&B), Client Managers (CMs), Assistant Client Managers (ACMs) and Payroll
- Providing a great opportunity to apply yourself and potentially secure a graduate role after university
